

The Bee

"By Industry we Thrive."

L. & N. TIME TABLE.

Mail Express...
Night Express...
Evansville Accommodation...
Providence and Madisonville...
W. W. THORNTON, Agent.

IVORY SOAP

DON'T ACCEPT IMITATIONS.

99 1/2% PURE

Earlington Happenings.

News Notes - Personal Paragraphs and Other Doings at Home Worthy of Special Mention.

As David, the sweet Psalmist of Israel, expressed it: "Let all the trees clap their hands for joy." We suppose it must have been spring-time with the Psalmist, and all nature was aglow.

Real merit is characteristic of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and is manifested every day in the remarkable cures the medicine accomplishes.

Mr. George Toy, one of our leading tonorial artists, is now busily employed in neat and attractive quarters, next to W. B. Gardner's drug store. Mr. Toy enjoys a lucrative patronage and ranks as one of the best of his profession.

Hundreds of persons, using Ayer's Hair Vigor, testify to its efficiency in restoring to their hair the color and beauty of youth.

General Assembly Pres. - On account of General Assembly, May 15, Presbyterian Church, the L. & N. will sell round trip tickets to Nashville at one fare May 14th, 15th and 16th, good returning until and on June 1st. W. W. THORNTON, Agt.

"How to Cure all Skin Diseases." Simply apply "SWANNE'S OINTMENT." No internal medicine required. Cures tetter, eczema, itch, all eruptions on the face, hands, neck, etc., leaving the skin clear, white and healthy. Its great healing and curative powers are possessed by no other remedy. Ask your druggist for SWANNE'S OINTMENT.

Deductive Services. - Next Sunday, the 30th ult., the Baptists of Hampton will deliver their new church in that city. A general invitation is extended to all. Ample arrangements have been made to entertain all visitors and a pleasant time is anticipated. Whenever Hanson undertakes a thing she never uses any fractions.

It is only of late years that rheumatism has been treated as a blood disease. But that this is a correct theory is proved by the extraordinary success attending the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in this painful and very prevalent malady. It seldom fails of radical cure.

Street Fire. - Last Thursday, the residence of Emmett Fox, who lives in Richmond vicinity, was consumed by fire which originated from a defective fuse. Nearly all the household effects were lost. (No insurance that we could learn of.) The unfortunate loss is certainly entitled to the sympathy and assistance of our citizens.

The most Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used the better it is liked. We know of no other remedy that always gives satisfaction. It is good when you first catch cold. It is good when your cough is ceased and your lungs are sore. It is good in any kind of a cough. We have sold twenty-five dozens of it and every bottle has given satisfaction. Stedman and Friedman, druggists, Minnesota Lake, Minn. 50 cent bottles for sale by the St. Bernard drug store, Earlington; Hen T. Robinson, Morton's Gap; Geo. King, St. Charles.

A Pioneer Preacher. - Rev. J. R. of California, will preach in the Christian Church Saturday night and Sunday following. He is the author of a volume of sermons and reminiscences which he is offering for sale. He bears the reputation of being a clear, forcible speaker. This, coupled with the fact that he is a pioneer preacher of that denomination, will insure him a crowded house.

The advertising agency of N. W. Ayer & Son, of Philadelphia, is unquestionably the largest and probably the best equipped of any in the United States. It has more and larger patrons than any other, and, taking one thing with another, it is questionable whether they are not entitled to the credit of securing for their patrons better service than can be counted on from any other.

It should be, and doubtless is, a great source of pride and satisfaction to Mr. Ayer and Mr. Kimmy that they have been able, while remaining in Philadelphia, to build up a larger advertising business than ever secured before by any advertising agency in New York or elsewhere.

Forecast Shadows. - The streets contiguous to the fair are being treated to a liberal coat of gravel, which adds greatly to the attractiveness of this favorite place of resort. This, with the blooming of flowers and the play of the fountain, evidences the close approach of "the heated term."

WANTED. - An active agent in each county in the United States, to collect subscriptions for the Twice-Week Republic. A liberal commission will be paid to hustlers. Address Superintendent Circulation, THE REPUBLIC, St. Louis, Mo.

Why the Fair Sex Eat Onions. - Many of the fair sex eat onions. They say that onions are splendid for brightening the complexion, and withal most healthful. Some of the best people, particularly in "society" circles, are not "at home" even to their most intimate friends on Sunday. It is said they devote that day to the consumption of onions. Now that the new spring crop is at hand, the ever-lasting but convenient headache is expected to yield to the health-giving, odoriferous onion.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles! SYMPTOMS: Moisture, itching, stinging, most at night, worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWANNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swanne & Son, Philadelphia.

Caught on the Fly. - Joseph Berry, whilst unloading brick last Monday got a finger badly crushed. He was reaching brick at the time, and in intercepting three brick in transit caught them near the wagon wheel and his crushed between them and the wagon tire. His wound is a painful one, necessitating several days "laying off."

Huckler's Aerial Salve. - The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chills, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by St. Bernard Drug Store.

More Devotion. - The house of Rufus Utley was burned last Saturday, the first originating in a peculiar manner. It seems that the women had been ironing and had put the cloth used to cover the ironing table away in a chest and failed to note that the cloth was on fire. At the time when the fire was discovered, they were paralyzed by fright and nearly everything was devoured by the flames.

Persons who are subject to attacks of bilious colic can almost invariably tell, by their feelings, when to expect an attack. If Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is taken as soon as these symptoms appear, they can ward off the disease. Such persons should always keep the Remedy at hand, ready for immediate use when needed. Two or three doses of it at the right time will save them much suffering. For sale by St. Bernard Drug Store, Earlington; Ben T. Robinson, Morton's Gap; Geo. King, St. Charles.

Nocturnal Knights of the Lash. - On last Monday night, the town of Hanson was visited by a band of white caps, who called upon a colored man named Henry Centrell, who enjoys a rather shady reputation, and administered to him a severe flogging. He offered resistance and in the struggle which ensued received a pistol shot in the calf of the leg. He went to Madisonville next day and swore out writs for three citizens of that vicinity whom he claims have recognized among his assailants. The names of these parties we failed to obtain.

Two Lives Saved. - Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Jackson City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had Consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 135 Florida St. San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful it is such results, of which there are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and Colds. Free trial bottles at St. Bernard Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

That is What Ails Hanna. - Mr. Michael Hanna, a competent machinist of Hecla, has good cause for wearing that sly smile, which has illuminated his countenance for the past few days. Last week, his family, consisting of the "gude wife" and six daughters arrived from Chicago. He has been working here and been absent from the loved ones something near a year. The meeting of the various members of the divided family was indeed a happy one.

Belittling Blacksmiths. - Monday evening, Manderson Old and his blacksmith, Harry Atherton, had an altercation, which ended in an informal engagement. It appears that Atherton's wife had been to the shop and asked her husband for a small amount of money to pay a store bill. He refused to let her have the money and used vulgar and obscene language. At this juncture, Oldham interfered and remonstrated with Atherton for using such shameful language toward his wife and affirmed that a man who would do such a thing did not possess principle enough to elevate him to that plane occupied by a "sheep-killing, sack-egg-yaller head dog."

A Pioneer Preacher. - Rev. J. R. of California, will preach in the Christian Church Saturday night and Sunday following. He is the author of a volume of sermons and reminiscences which he is offering for sale. He bears the reputation of being a clear, forcible speaker. This, coupled with the fact that he is a pioneer preacher of that denomination, will insure him a crowded house.

The advertising agency of N. W. Ayer & Son, of Philadelphia, is unquestionably the largest and probably the best equipped of any in the United States. It has more and larger patrons than any other, and, taking one thing with another, it is questionable whether they are not entitled to the credit of securing for their patrons better service than can be counted on from any other.

It should be, and doubtless is, a great source of pride and satisfaction to Mr. Ayer and Mr. Kimmy that they have been able, while remaining in Philadelphia, to build up a larger advertising business than ever secured before by any advertising agency in New York or elsewhere.

The advertising agency of N. W. Ayer & Son, of Philadelphia, is unquestionably the largest and probably the best equipped of any in the United States. It has more and larger patrons than any other, and, taking one thing with another, it is questionable whether they are not entitled to the credit of securing for their patrons better service than can be counted on from any other.

It should be, and doubtless is, a great source of pride and satisfaction to Mr. Ayer and Mr. Kimmy that they have been able, while remaining in Philadelphia, to build up a larger advertising business than ever secured before by any advertising agency in New York or elsewhere.

The advertising agency of N. W. Ayer & Son, of Philadelphia, is unquestionably the largest and probably the best equipped of any in the United States. It has more and larger patrons than any other, and, taking one thing with another, it is questionable whether they are not entitled to the credit of securing for their patrons better service than can be counted on from any other.

It should be, and doubtless is, a great source of pride and satisfaction to Mr. Ayer and Mr. Kimmy that they have been able, while remaining in Philadelphia, to build up a larger advertising business than ever secured before by any advertising agency in New York or elsewhere.

The advertising agency of N. W. Ayer & Son, of Philadelphia, is unquestionably the largest and probably the best equipped of any in the United States. It has more and larger patrons than any other, and, taking one thing with another, it is questionable whether they are not entitled to the credit of securing for their patrons better service than can be counted on from any other.

It should be, and doubtless is, a great source of pride and satisfaction to Mr. Ayer and Mr. Kimmy that they have been able, while remaining in Philadelphia, to build up a larger advertising business than ever secured before by any advertising agency in New York or elsewhere.

The advertising agency of N. W. Ayer & Son, of Philadelphia, is unquestionably the largest and probably the best equipped of any in the United States. It has more and larger patrons than any other, and, taking one thing with another, it is questionable whether they are not entitled to the credit of securing for their patrons better service than can be counted on from any other.

It should be, and doubtless is, a great source of pride and satisfaction to Mr. Ayer and Mr. Kimmy that they have been able, while remaining in Philadelphia, to build up a larger advertising business than ever secured before by any advertising agency in New York or elsewhere.

The advertising agency of N. W. Ayer & Son, of Philadelphia, is unquestionably the largest and probably the best equipped of any in the United States. It has more and larger patrons than any other, and, taking one thing with another, it is questionable whether they are not entitled to the credit of securing for their patrons better service than can be counted on from any other.

It should be, and doubtless is, a great source of pride and satisfaction to Mr. Ayer and Mr. Kimmy that they have been able, while remaining in Philadelphia, to build up a larger advertising business than ever secured before by any advertising agency in New York or elsewhere.

The advertising agency of N. W. Ayer & Son, of Philadelphia, is unquestionably the largest and probably the best equipped of any in the United States. It has more and larger patrons than any other, and, taking one thing with another, it is questionable whether they are not entitled to the credit of securing for their patrons better service than can be counted on from any other.

It should be, and doubtless is, a great source of pride and satisfaction to Mr. Ayer and Mr. Kimmy that they have been able, while remaining in Philadelphia, to build up a larger advertising business than ever secured before by any advertising agency in New York or elsewhere.

The advertising agency of N. W. Ayer & Son, of Philadelphia, is unquestionably the largest and probably the best equipped of any in the United States. It has more and larger patrons than any other, and, taking one thing with another, it is questionable whether they are not entitled to the credit of securing for their patrons better service than can be counted on from any other.

It should be, and doubtless is, a great source of pride and satisfaction to Mr. Ayer and Mr. Kimmy that they have been able, while remaining in Philadelphia, to build up a larger advertising business than ever secured before by any advertising agency in New York or elsewhere.

New Excursion. - Several carloads of paving brick have been received and distributed over the streets of the city. Contractor George Parnsworth, with a corps of fifty men, is pushing the work forward rapidly, and the time is near at hand when the "long law" church member, will have to invent a new excuse for non-attendance at prayer meeting. The electric lights and brick walks knock the war and filling out of the old heavy-headed plea, "dark night and bad walking."

My wife was confined to her bed for over two months with a very severe attack of rheumatism. We could get nothing that would afford her any relief, and as a last resort gave Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. To our great surprise she began to improve after the first application, and by using it regularly, she was soon able to get up and attend to her house work. E. H. Johnson, of C. J. Knott & Co., Kensington, Minn. 50 cent bottles for sale by St. Bernard Drug Store, Earlington; Ben T. Robinson, Morton's Gap; Geo. King, St. Charles.

Signs and Wonders. - The Man About Town, in his ramble this week came across some signs at the No. 9 mine which induce the belief that Job Billings has struck a job at that place. Upon a large sheet of iron he read the following instructions: "yet does hoar in ear out-side burst you cant run no extry holes."

A sign over a bolt cutting machine reads, "Please clean those dyes."

Electric Bitters. - This remedy is becoming well known, and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters will praise the name of praise - A pure medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove Pimples, Boils, Salt Rheum and other affections caused by impure blood. Will drive Malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all Malarial fevers - For cure of Headache, Constipation and Indigestion try Electric Bitters. Entire satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded. - Price 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at St. Bernard Drugstore.

With Commence Next Sunday. - Rev. J. H. Frost will leave here in a few days for Pleasant Garden, one of the churches of his pastorate, to begin a series of meetings there next Sunday. Just how long these services will depend, of course, upon the interest manifested by the people. Mr. R. M. Adcock, of this place, who is fast gaining a reputation as a public singer of sacred songs, is expected to assist Rev. Frost in this meeting.

All members of Victoria Lodge No. 84 K. of P. are requested to meet in their Castle Hall, next Monday night, at 7:45 to take part in the initiatory ceremonies of the Page and Knight Ranks. There will be three candidates for the Page Rank and one for the Knight Rank. All visiting brethren are cordially invited to be present on this occasion.

W. F. Anderson, K. of R. S. M. McCord, K. G. C.

Over the River. - Last Sunday evening, at three o'clock, Mrs. Thelma Glenn, wife of Editor J. J. Glenn, departed this life at Madisonville, Ky. She was a victim of that dread disease consumption, and bore the lingering disease with that firmness and patience which is accorded to every true consistent Christian, during the dark hours of human affliction. In her life, she was noted for her sweetness of disposition, her ever willingness to share the sorrows of others, and her unswerving devotion to every dictate of duty, always ready to listen to the story of another's woes and prompt to contribute to their relief. The value of such a woman in a community is incalculable and the loss of such is irreparable. She leaves to mourn her loss a kind devoted husband and a gentle affectionate daughter, a large circle of relatives and a multitude of friends. To all of these we extend our sincerest heartfelt sympathy and would that it were in the power of words or the compass of language to alleviate their anguish or lighten their grief in this sad hour of affliction and bereavement. We can only point them to the consistent life of the mourned one, her steadfast faith in the Christian religion, the unswerving calmness and resignation, with which she met the dread summons and recall that promise extended alone to those who are faithful even unto death. They shall inherit eternal life.

There is a future, oh thank God, Of life, this is so small a part, It's dust to dust beneath the sod, But there, up there it's heart to heart.

Very Thoughtful of Others. - Not from personal motives at all does the Man About Town desire to call the attention of readers of the Bee, particularly those in this city who are compelled to feel an interest to some extent, to the existence right here in their very midst of an Old Maid's Club. While that might not be the proper term to apply, it is nevertheless composed of maiden ladies only, who were once as young as ever. The Man About Town, at any rate, this Club held a meeting Saturday eve till long after bed time at the home of certain members of this Club on Main street and on a corner hereafter to be designated if occasion should require. At this meeting there was more than a quorum present and of course the regular business was dispatched in good shape till remarks for the good of the order were called for. Under this head is where interest was awakened. Bachelors, as well as old maids absent from this important meeting, were called by name and their relative merits discussed. One and sister told present and whose home is on another corner of the same street came in for her share of the remarks under the head. Since this one's return from the far West, members of this club have been guessing. This guessing has resulted in a rumor that matrimony is soon to be committed, implicating this fair one to whom their remarks were directed and the one of her choice. As this venture westward had proven a fruitless one to her, a member having an eye to business suggested that a card of old maid be sent West from here, the Club agreeing to fill the card to the fullest capacity, and a carload of bachelors, too, sent Eastward with the same purpose in view. Among these thoughtful sisters mentioned as available candidates for the matrimony market were a dry goods clerk in the big brick, the engineer who pulls the throttle of the top, two of our druggists, the Man About Town and - here, the subject dropped to be taken up when the club again gets together.

Arrest of Stealing. - Two well known Earlingtonians, Ed. Adams and Jim. Bond, were arrested last Monday, and taken before Police Judge Cowell, who held them to appear on Wednesday morning at nine o'clock for examining trial. At that hour the prosecution was not ready to proceed with trial and the case was postponed till Friday morning at nine o'clock. William Hewitt was taken into custody at the time of the arrest of these parties on the same charge, but the Commonwealth dismissed the charge against him for lack of evidence.

A great deal of interest is taken in the matter on account of the many deprecations, for months past, that have been committed in the city, and to the giving in of the evidence when the case comes up, some rich and racy developments are expected. Stolen goods are in the possession of the officers which is calculated to make the case as it progresses, an exceedingly interesting one.

Personal Mention. - Father A. N. Connelley Tuesday, for Sebree and Henderson, on a visit of several days duration.

J. V. Eades and wife, of Madisonville, are visiting friends in the city.

John Martin, of Locust Ford, visited friends in the city, Tuesday.

Elder W. H. Ligon and wife, of Salem, Ky., is visiting the family of J. W. Ligon.

Miss Bertha Doyal, of this city visited friends in Madisonville, last week.

Henry Jones was in Madisonville Tuesday evening.

Mrs. E. R. McKuen, accompanied Mrs. S. V. Davis home last Tuesday.

Mr. Joseph Long, of Madisonville, visited relatives here yesterday.

THE BIRTH OF THE FLOWERS. A PARODY. TO "THE TRIANGLE."

The days of springtime now are come, The gladdest of the year, The waiting winds grew still and dumb Beside the winter's bier.

Heaped in the hollows of the pass, Brown leaves are covered o'er With many a blade of leafy grass.

For summer's coming soon In every house have built the wren, In every shrub the jay, And notes of birds ring through the glen.

Through all the fair spring day, The flowers are come, the fair, sweet flowers, Like living clocks they stand, Calling in softened notes the hours.

As the hour-glass drops the sand From out the seeds the plants have come, And brought these pretty flowers, With sweetest breath and insect hum.

And changed April showers Into showers, they fall into the ground, These gladly takes them up As they fall with gently murmuring sound.

On each chalice cup The wind-flower and the violet, They came when went the snow, The brier rose and the orchis yet Will long be golden-rod.

Will fill its yellow saucer high, And the aster blue from autumn soil, And through the leaves that fall and die The founts are gone, the days grow warm, And now no longer will we muse On winter's cold and dreary storm.

On autumn's fading hues, And now when comes the cool, damp day, As still such days will come, To drive the sunshine all away, Behind the black cloud's dome When the dripping sound of rain is heard From the tips of forest leaves, Falling on green grass and fern, From the hand of spring waves.

The north-wind searches for the flowers, To smite them weak and sore, And should be find them in their bowers Their light would gleam no more.

And then think of those from whom I parted long ago, The friendship made and broken when With winter came the snow.

We parted with no glimpse of May, No hush and snow still lay The hush and snow of spring, Yet no moment if we should Part sadly in the winter's hours.

When on affection's grave there could Be strewn no useless flowers, My friends have gone and perhaps we On earth no more may meet.

But we, with faith, in future see Another meeting sweet.

IDA EABLE DAWSON, Ky.

Grapevine Telegrams. MADISONVILLE.

The Odd Fellows celebrate their seventy-fifth anniversary to-day.

Miss Eva Oldham, of Earlington, visited at T. O. Bourjain's last week.

Miss Vaden Hanner is visiting in the Pond River country this week.

Two well known Earlingtonians, Ed. Adams and Jim. Bond, were arrested last Monday, and taken before Police Judge Cowell, who held them to appear on Wednesday morning at nine o'clock for examining trial. At that hour the prosecution was not ready to proceed with trial and the case was postponed till Friday morning at nine o'clock. William Hewitt was taken into custody at the time of the arrest of these parties on the same charge, but the Commonwealth dismissed the charge against him for lack of evidence.

A great deal of interest is taken in the matter on account of the many deprecations, for months past, that have been committed in the city, and to the giving in of the evidence when the case comes up, some rich and racy developments are expected. Stolen goods are in the possession of the officers which is calculated to make the case as it progresses, an exceedingly interesting one.

Personal Mention. - Father A. N. Connelley Tuesday, for Sebree and Henderson, on a visit of several days duration.

J. V. Eades and wife, of Madisonville, are visiting friends in the city.

John Martin, of Locust Ford, visited friends in the city, Tuesday.

Elder W. H. Ligon and wife, of Salem, Ky., is visiting the family of J. W. Ligon.

Miss Bertha Doyal, of this city visited friends in Madisonville, last week.

Henry Jones was in Madisonville Tuesday evening.

Mrs. E. R. McKuen, accompanied Mrs. S. V. Davis home last Tuesday.

Mr. Joseph Long, of Madisonville, visited relatives here yesterday.

THE BIRTH OF THE FLOWERS. A PARODY. TO "THE TRIANGLE."

The days of springtime now are come, The gladdest of the year, The waiting winds grew still and dumb Beside the winter's bier.

Heaped in the hollows of the pass, Brown leaves are covered o'er With many a blade of leafy grass.

For summer's coming soon In every house have built the wren, In every shrub the jay, And notes of birds ring through the glen.

Through all the fair spring day, The flowers are come, the fair, sweet flowers, Like living clocks they stand, Calling in softened notes the hours.

As the hour-glass drops the sand From out the seeds the plants have come, And brought these pretty flowers, With sweetest breath and insect hum.

And changed April showers Into showers, they fall into the ground, These gladly takes them up As they fall with gently murmuring sound.

On each chalice cup The wind-flower and the violet, They came when went the snow, The brier rose and the orchis yet Will long be golden-rod.

Will fill its yellow saucer high, And the aster blue from autumn soil, And through the leaves that fall and die The founts are gone, the days grow warm, And now no longer will we muse On winter's cold and dreary storm.

On autumn's fading hues, And now when comes the cool, damp day, As still such days will come, To drive the sunshine all away, Behind the black cloud's dome When the dripping sound of rain is heard From the tips of forest leaves, Falling on green grass and fern, From the hand of spring waves.

The north-wind searches for the flowers, To smite them weak and sore, And should be find them in their bowers Their light would gleam no more.

And then think of those from whom I parted long ago, The friendship made and broken when With winter came the snow.

We parted with no glimpse of May, No hush and snow still lay The hush and snow of spring, Yet no moment if we should Part sadly in the winter's hours.

When on affection's grave there could Be strewn no useless flowers, My friends have gone and perhaps we On earth no more may meet.

But we, with faith, in future see Another meeting sweet.

IDA EABLE DAWSON, Ky.

Grapevine Telegrams. MADISONVILLE.

The Odd Fellows celebrate their seventy-fifth anniversary to-day.

Miss Eva Oldham, of Earlington, visited at T. O. Bourjain's last week.

Miss Vaden Hanner is visiting in the Pond River country this week.

Two well known Earlingtonians, Ed. Adams and Jim. Bond, were arrested last Monday, and taken before Police Judge Cowell, who held them to appear on Wednesday morning at nine o'clock for examining trial. At that hour the prosecution was not ready to proceed with trial and the case was postponed till Friday morning at nine o'clock. William Hewitt was taken into custody at the time of the arrest of these parties on the same charge, but the Commonwealth dismissed the charge against him for lack of evidence.

A great deal of interest is taken in the matter on account of the many deprecations, for months past, that have been committed in the city, and to the giving in of the evidence when the case comes up, some rich and racy developments are expected. Stolen goods are in the possession of the officers which is calculated to make the case as it progresses, an exceedingly interesting one.

Personal Mention. - Father A. N. Connelley Tuesday, for Sebree and Henderson, on a visit of several days duration.

J. V. Eades and wife, of Madisonville, are visiting friends in the city.

John Martin, of Locust Ford, visited friends in the city, Tuesday.

Elder W. H. Ligon and wife, of Salem, Ky., is visiting the family of J. W. Ligon.

Miss Bertha Doyal, of this city visited friends in Madisonville, last week.

Henry Jones was in Madisonville Tuesday evening.

Mrs. E. R. McKuen, accompanied Mrs. S. V. Davis home last Tuesday.

Mr. Joseph Long, of Madisonville, visited relatives here yesterday.

THE BIRTH OF THE FLOWERS. A PARODY. TO "THE TRIANGLE."

The days of springtime now are come, The gladdest of the year, The waiting winds grew still and dumb Beside the winter's bier.

Heaped in the hollows of the pass, Brown leaves are covered o'er With many a blade of leafy grass.

For summer's coming soon In every house have built the wren, In every shrub the jay, And notes of birds ring through the glen.

Through all the fair spring day, The flowers are come, the fair, sweet flowers, Like living clocks they stand, Calling in softened notes the hours.

As the hour-glass drops the sand From out the seeds the plants have come, And brought these pretty flowers, With sweetest breath and insect hum.

And changed April showers Into showers, they fall into the ground, These gladly takes them up As they fall with gently murmuring sound.

On each chalice cup The wind-flower and the violet, They came when went the snow, The brier rose and the orchis yet Will long be golden-rod.

Will fill its yellow saucer high, And the aster blue from autumn soil, And through the leaves that fall and die The founts are gone, the days grow warm, And now no longer will we muse On winter's cold and dreary storm.

On autumn's fading hues, And now when comes the cool, damp day, As still such days will come, To drive the sunshine all away, Behind the black cloud's dome When the dripping sound of rain is heard From the tips of forest leaves, Falling on green grass and fern, From the hand of spring waves.

The north-wind searches for the flowers, To smite them weak and sore, And should be find them in their bowers Their light would gleam no more.

And then think of those from whom I parted long ago, The friendship made and broken when With winter came the snow.

We parted with no glimpse of May, No hush and snow still lay The hush and snow of spring, Yet no moment if we should Part sadly in the winter's hours.

When on affection's grave there could Be strewn no useless flowers, My friends have gone and perhaps we On earth no more may meet.

But we, with faith, in future see Another meeting sweet.

IDA EABLE DAWSON, Ky.

Grapevine Telegrams. MADISONVILLE.

The Odd Fellows celebrate their seventy-fifth anniversary to-day.

Miss Eva Oldham, of Earlington, visited at T. O. Bourjain's last week.

Miss Vaden Hanner is visiting in the Pond River country this week.

WHAT THE CLERGY SAY ABOUT THE Electropoise!

Rev. Robert M. Beirret, Baptist Seminary, Louisville, Ky.: "I gladly add my testimonial to that of many witnesses for the Electropoise. Besides other serious troubles, I have cured a severe attack of la grippe in one night's treatment."

Rev. W. W. Bruce, Hustonville, Ky.: "With the Electropoise I have cured a bad case of op